How to Treat a Watch. A FEW SIMPLE RULES FOR THE PRESERVATION OF A PERFECT TIMEPIECE. m Chambers's Journal.

Having obtained a really serviceable artiele you should, in order to produce satis-ele you should, in order to produce satis-factory results, follow out these rules: Wind up your watch every day at the same hour. This is generally done at the hour we retire to rest, or perhaps better still the hour we rise. Avoid putting a watch on a marble slab or near anything excessively cold. The sudden transition from heat to contracting the metal may some-s cause the mainspring to break, ed, the cold coagulates the oil, the wheel-work and pivots work-less freely affect the regularity of the time-keeper. When we lay our watch aside we ought to slope it on a watchse, so as to keep it nearly in the same position as it bas in the pocket. In laying ide your watch be sure that it rests on its pase, as by suspending it free the action of the balance may cause oscillation, which may considerably interfere with its going. If you would keep your watch clean you must be quite sure that the case fits firmly, and never put it into any pocket but one made of leather. Those pock-ets which are lined with cloth, cotton, or calico give, by the constant friction, a certain quantity of fluff, which enters most watches, even those the cases of which shut firmly. If the watch is not a "keyless" one, the key should be small, in order that we may feel the resistance of the order that we may feel the resistance of the top-work; then we can stop in time without forcing anything. It is also necessary that the square of the key should correrge, it may in a short time cause the windup square to suffer from undue wear and tear, the rectifying of which is rather ex-pensive. The hands of an ordinary watch can be turned backwards without much risk. It is, however, always better to move the hands forward to adjust your watch to correct time. A skilful watchmaker one day thus reasoned with a customer who complained of his watch: "You complained," said he, well, then, you will congratulate yourself ien you have heard me. You are aware that in your watch the balance, which is the regulator, makes five oscillations every second, which is four bundred and shirty-two thousand a day; so that your watch; exposed to all the vi-clesitudes which heat and cold occasion it, the varying weight of the air and the shaking to which it is subjected, has not varied more than a minute a month or two seconds a day. It has only acquired with each vibration of the Lalance a variation of the two-hundred-and-sixteen-thousandth part of a second. Judge, then, what must be the extreme perfection of the DR. GEORGE B. STEEL,

A watch cannot go for an indefinite period without being repaired or cleaned. At the expiration of a certain time the oil dries up, dust accumulates, and wear and tear are inevitable results to the whole machinery, the functions becoming irregular and frequently ceasing to act altogether. A person possessing a watch of good quality and desirous of preserving it as such should have it cleaned every two years at least. But care should be taken to confide this cleaning or repairing to careful bands; an incapable workman may do great injury to a watch even of the simplest construction.

Pollated Brinking-Water-How Disease is Often Caused.

Drs. George H. Robe and J. W. Cham bers, of this city, contribute to the current issue of the Maryland Medical Journal a brief but valuable article upon the pollution of hydrant-water and its relation to the spread of typhoid-fever. The paper was suggested to them by a "house-epi-demic" of typhoid-fever which occurred in a residence on Orleans street. A little in vestigation revealed to them that the water in the yard-hydrant contained an ex-cess of organic matter that had per-colated through the soil from the privy-vault to the vacuum chamber of the hydrant, from which the family drew their ordinary supply of drinking-water. This is not an isolated instance, but several others of the same kind are known in the practice of Baltimore physicians. In the same residence it was discovered that the water at the kitchen hydrant was pure.
Hence the writers say: "We speak of preventable pollution, because, in our opinion, the defect is removable. Sanitarians are as one as to the importance of the proper disposed of sawage, and of the utter partia.

MONEY TO LEND posal of sewage, and of the utter pernicloneness of the privy system [that is, no culvents] with which Baltimore, in common with other large chies, is cursed. But, although we may raise our wide. But, mon with other large cities, is cursed. But, atthough we may raise our voice in condemnation of this abomination, it stays with us. It is suggested, however, that the dangers from this source may be considerably lessened by the general substitution of an in-door hydrant in place of the out-door fith-accumulator now in use. This would not only be cheaper, but, while removing the danger pointed out in this paper, would add materially to the comfort of the family using the water."—Battimore American.

REPORT WHICH WILL RESULT IN THE DIS-Lorson, October 22.—It is believed that the Commission of Scrutiny in the Oxford contested-election case has decided that Oxford shall be disfranchised. The revelations of bribery there made by the parliamentary inquiry were seandalous in the extreme, and the influential and fashionle circles in which the contestants move have not yet fully recovered from the case when this new surprise comes upon them. The Conservative agent testified that is cost the party about £8,000 to beat £2r William Harcourt in May, £4,000 baving been expended in April without success. At the first election there was a tacit comset between the two parties that expendi-ures or each side should be limited to £2,-00 and no bills should be issued, but on each side should be issued, but when the contest got warm the bargain was sepudiated and "both sides fired bills at each other," as many as five sels of placards boing issued in one day. His published accounts, he said, sever hed been correct, and he "juggled" teams so as to save himself from a criminal prosecution. On election-day he employed about 1,200 people and 1,075 conveyances. His side cast 2,730 votes! He gave the mane of a member of the Junior Cariton Club from whom he got money for election purposes, and admitted that the gain of 100 votes which detented Sir William Harcourt was made by corruption, and that the difference between his published and actual exmanditure went for bribas. The returning the majority of the electors looked to being the property of the selectors looked to being tion-day, and the Conservative sgent finally declared that he had destroyed nearly all of his papers "because they would have dis-closed quasi-corrupt transactions."

If you the Gentleman's Massezine.]

It is not mere sentimentalism that pleads in favor of the most merciful form of death being adopted in the case of the slaughter of animals intended for human consumpof animals intended for human consumption. There is no question that much suffering would be spared cattle if they were not allowed to see each other slaughtered. Not easy is it to conceive the kind of torture they feel and cannot express. How observant are animals is proved by a case which came under my own observation. Among the inmates of my house is a jackdaw, an all-grained and vituperative bird as ever accepted, under protest, human companionship and human attention. He prefers so distinctly human attention. He prefers so distinctly sleeping in a cage where no enemy can assail him while he is off his guard that he the State Constitution, adopted to the state Constitution in 1876, all persons consember election in 1876, all persons consected of petit larceny are disfranchised as ter. One day, while he was in the cage, some dead pheasants, which had just arrived some dead pheasants, which had just arrived to the state of the state of the cage, and the cage, which had just arrived to the cage, and the ca ters. Therefore of the judgment of con-tion rendered by the justice remains un-tion rendered by the justice remains un-tersed, and was rendered since the adop-tof the amended Constitution, the per-tersed. A bird whose whole time was passed in defiance of things stronger than himself, in aggravating a mastiff that would not make two bites of him, or in pinching surreptitiously the flamboyant tail of his arch enemy the cat when it came within reach of his cage, went at this sight into an ecstacy of terror which could not be appeased until the uncanny objects were removed. What instinct caused this strange demonstration in the presence of death shown in one of its own race, albeit so different a species, is not to be guessed. Much food for reflection and speculation is, however, efforded. A PROPOSED NEW STATE. - An association has been organized in the western part of Pennsylvania, with headquarters in the city of Pittsburgh, which has for its object the erection of a new State out of a portion of the Keystone State, called the State of Al-legheny. It is proposed to divide the State of Pennsylvania so as to follow the county lines between McKean, Cameron, Clearfield, Blair, Huntingdon, and Fulton counties on the one side, and Potter, Clinton, Centre, Mifflin, Juanita, and Franklin counties on the other; the new State to consist of all that part of Pennsylvania west of the line so defined. It will embrace twenty-eight counties, with a population of 1,454,196. The total population of the entire State of Pennsylvania is 4,237,312. This would eave the State, after taking from it the State of Allegheny, with 2,783,116 inhabitants, or nearly twice the population of the proposed State of Allegheny. A number of eading men are interesting themselves in the movement, who are very earnest in advocating the formation of the new State.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE-INSURANCE COMPANY respectfully invites attention to the following FACTS: 1. Being PURELY MUTUAL (its profits being di-vided among its policy-holders) it offers insurance at exact cost.

2. Having a larger percentage of surplus and pay-ing larger average dividends, it furnishes safer in-surance at less cost than any of the leading compa-nes. nles.
Policies issued upon all approved plans which have stood the test of time.
